Park's Vegetable Booklet
OF BARGAINS.

Every variety of Vegetable Seeds offered in this Booklet was selected and given a place in it because of its superior merits. Big lists are only confusing, and often poor, inferior sorts are purchased, resulting in disappointment and loss, because of the lack of true information about the comparative merits of the varieties offered. I have but little confidence in Novelties until well tried. Most of them are inferior to the older sorts. If you want the best vegetables, buy first-class seeds of the best of the older varieties. Your garden will then prove a source of pleasure and satisfaction. Otherwise it may only annoy and disappoint you. Although my prices are low there are no better seeds to be obtained anywhere than those I here offer. All are of the latest crop, and choicest improved strains, grown by men who have given years of attention to seed-growing. I heartily and confidently recommend them.

Artichoke, Large Globe.
Per packet 3 cents, 4 packets 10 cents.

This is a vegetable highly prized in France. The immature flower heads are used, being boiled. The tender pulp at the base of the scales is then eaten with condiments. The plants are very ornamental in foliage, and the composite flower heads large. Easily grown from seed sown when the early fruit trees are in bloom. Bloom the second season. If grown at the North the plants must be protected over winter. Per ounce 30 cents.

Asparagus, Colossal.
Per packet 3 cents, 4 packets 10 cents.

Asparagus is a delicious vegetable, and can be grown satisfactorily in the North as well as South. The young, vigorous shoots are used. They are usually boiled, seasoned, and then dressed with cream or butter. Seeds germinate readily, and the plants require a year or two to get established. Once started, however, the bed will yield an abundance of shoots every season. Mulch heavily in fall or early spring, with chip dirt. The shoots of the Colossal are often an inch in diameter.
